JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Aug. 1.—The bonus army in two days of occupation has won tolerance, if not welcome here in its new home, but a cautious majority of the city council today completed arrangements for state aid in case of a disturbance or emergency.

The city fathers do not expect disorder, but felt that with 3,000 bonus marchers encamped four miles away in Ideal park, and their numbers swelling, safety insurance of some sort was a good move.

They communicated with state heads at Harrisburg, and have received assurance of help if it is needed. George W. Griffith, spokesman for the council majority, outlined the feelings of the body for International News Service.

Oppose Locating At Johnstown He said:

"So far as we councilmen are concerned, we were as a unit in opposing movement of the bonus marchers to Johnstown, but now that they are here, I don't see that there is much we can do about it, so long as they are peaceful and occupying private property.

"If there is any disturbance, it will be a different story. We have (Continued On Page Fourteen)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Weather conditions are far different this summer from what they were last year. A year ago today the mercury stood at 99 degrees and one could not keep comfortable even in the shade.

Not often does a New Castle see a Montana tag on a car here. There was one downtown today.

It'll be only a matter of a few days until the Smith property, right back of the southwest quarter of the public square, is cleared for its share of the new postoffice. Pa. Newscast wishes all the land was, and building operations buzzing.

PA Newscast observed parkers in Sycamore alley alongside the Greer block receiving tags for illegal parking this morning. Several of the machines bore Ohio license plates.

At Erie, several New Castle motorists report, the recently-beautiful Presque Isle park is a magnet.

Rev. Geo. M. Landis Presents His Reasons For Quitting Pastorate

Announces Severance Of Denominational Ties At Sunday Service

Large Congregation Attends Service—Many Farewell Tributes

Strength of his spiritual convictions was the underlying principle which motivated George M. Landis in resigning the pastorate of the First Baptist church, which he served as minister for the past seven and one half years, and his severance of denominational ties.

He stated his beliefs to the congregation Sunday morning and told them he could not be true to his conscience and to his God and continue in his spiritual work in the capacity of a pastor, and after much deliberation and prayer, he was forced to take this step.

Tax Battle To Be Resumed By House Tonight

State Legislators Reconvene Tonight For Sixth Week Of Special Session

SENATE IS READY FOR ADJOURNMENT

Expected That Income Tax Bill Will Be Introduced At Session Tonight

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—Split over adjournment and proposals for new taxes, the state assembly reconvenes tonight for the sixth week of the extraordinary session.

To what extent the sentiment for taxes has crystallized in the House will not be known until after the two chief revenue-raising proposals have reached the floor. The Senate will have little or no part of a tax program, it is known, and is ready to terminate the session this week.

The future of the session simmers down to the question of whether the tax fostering element in the lower branch has cooled enough support there to keep the legislators convened until they have acted on the proposed bills. It appeared doubtful in view of the fact that no amount of oratory by a few could induce legislators during the 1931 special session to vote for additional tax impositions.

The income tax and imposts on cigarettes, soft drinks and cosmetics are the proposals on which a House group will base its demand for continuance of the session until action to provide adequate relief funds has been taken or, at least, until there has been a record vote on the levies. One branch cannot adjourn if the other is in session.

Two Firemen Die In Blast In New York

More Than Score Injured When Explosion Occurs In Hotel Sub-Basement

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Two firemen were killed today and more than a score of others injured when a wall-ripping explosion followed a fire in the sub-basement of the Ritz Towers, 37th street and Park avenue.

The blast is thought to have been caused by an accumulation of gases suddenly fired by a back draft. The dead:

Lieutenant James Harnett of truck company 16; home address Elmhurst, Queens.

Fireman Thomas Finn of Hollis, Queens.

Individual feats of heroism by firemen carrying unconscious comrades from the basement undoubtedly saved many lives.

Jewels and silverware valued at $50,000 were blown into Park avenue by the blast, which demolished the show cases and front of the Thomas Kirkpatrick, Inc. jewelry shop, located on one side of the hotel building.

State highway patrolmen from Butler, Pa., today continued an investigation into an automobile accident at Portersville about 1 a. m. today which resulted in three injured being treated in the New Castle hospital.

The Injured.

William Ludwig, 25, 18 Venture street, Pittsburgh; probable fracture of shoulder.

Lewis Davis, 27, 6 Ribet way, Pittsburgh; probable fracture of shoulder.

James Dury, 18, 117 Maywood avenue, Pittsburgh; injury to shoulder.

According to a report of the Butler highway patrolmen who investigated the crash, a truck struck the three Pittsburghers. The report claims that the truck did not stop. It was enroute to Pittsburgh and the auto was journeying toward New Castle.

News Company And Employees Honor Mr. Rentz

Testimonial Gathering At News Office On Saturday Afternoon

GRANDFATHER CLOCK REMEMBRANCE GIFT

Felicitations On Fiftieth Anniversary Are Expressed By Many

There have been many red letter days in the life of Fred L. Rentz, publisher of the New Castle News, but none of them ever begin to approach Saturday, July 30, 1932. It was a day that will stand out in his memory as long as he lives undoubtedly for it brought to him in a most auspicious manner the reminder that it marked the fiftieth year he had been on the New Castle News.

Almost with the opening of the office in the morning the celebration started. Telegrams, letters, phone calls and personal visits brought him an increasing load of congratulations, and until midnight when the Open House Reception held at his home on Edison Avenue had concluded, he was the storm center of a tornado of felicitations.

Employees Remember Him

At a twenty, the employees of the News took over the celebration for a little while and demonstrated in a tangible way the esteem in which he is held by the men and women under his supervision. The paper was gotten out early, and shortly before two thirty the employees of each department, business, mechanical and editorial, gathered in the lobby of the business office. As they filed down the stairs the crowd sang "The Old Gray Mare."

James P. Caldwell, "dean of newspapermen in Lawrence County" presided as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Caldwell has been associated (Continued On Page Two)

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 1.—Get this for a laugh. First event on Olympic program: Weight lifting, both light and heavy. Each event won by a Frenchman. One was a dancing teacher, the other a dealer in a gambling house.

Best showing at opening was by Canada, second by Italy, third, Argentine, and today one hundred and five thousand people are looking for the ladies' milliner that put those French "berets" on our American boys. Those "boulevard caps" are bad enough on a Frenchman, but on an American athlete they are a scream.

Only test of endurance at the opening was ten thousand-meter prayer. A man with a short prayer could get booking for life, just at these national events.

Hundreds Of Friends Gather At Home Reception As Honor To Mr. Rentz

Friends, associates and neighbors of Fred L. Rentz honored his fiftieth anniversary on the New Castle News, Saturday evening, when they filled his home and the grounds in an Open House Reception which was held. From eight o'clock until midnight he was the recipient of a shower of congratulations, gifts and a host of choice bouquets.

Mr. Rentz had expected that a few friends might drop in during the evening. Instead there was close to 400 present, traffic was blocked on Edison avenue and the affair turned out to be the high spot of the day's events.

The flowers were in such profusion that every room in the house was taken over for space for them. A score or more of them were from personal friends. Others were sent by the directors of the Y. M. MADE PREVIOUS U. S. APPLICATION

Seeks To Hasten Apportionment To State For Relief Work

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 1.—Anxious to procure as large a block of Federal funds as possible to distribute in Pennsylvania, Gov. Gifford Pinchot tomorrow will go to Washington to make a personal appeal to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The Governor contends that more than 1,000,000 workers are without jobs and that distribution of relief funds should be on that basis.

Immediately after approval of the legislation which made funds available for the states to support the jobless, the governor made application for $45,000,000, the maximum any state could receive. The request was acknowledged but no indication has been given by Federal authorities as to what action they may take.

Quite a number of local members of the Pennsylvania Fishing club have returned home from an outing at the camp of the club at San Souci on Georgian Bay. They report the fishing fine. Among those returning was James DeLawrence brought home forty pounds of fish including an eight pound muscalonge. Other members returning home are: Councilman L. G. Genkinger, Dr. H. E. Zerner and Adolph Lang were the other members returning today.

State highway patrol on Sunday reported to the police here that they had found the automobile of W. H. Butler, which had been stolen on Friday evening from North street. The owner has been notified.

He works for months and hardly stops, nor bothers with the current shows, and when a singer comes to town, to hear her sing he never goes. But let the fishing season start, for bass or trout or speckled pike, and down comes tackle reel and line, my friend is ready then to hike. He claims that fishing gives him strength, to battle when he gets back home, it lets him get away from folks, to fish and loaf and sit and roam. But this I know it also helps to pass the evening hours away in telling of the fish he caught, it's warm and $4 today.

of that program may reach the governor's desk this week.

The Taylor bill, which originally carried an appropriation of $24,000,000 has been reduced to $12,000,000 and with that amount it will appear on the final passage calendar in the House tonight.

Just where the money to meet the appropriation is to come from remains a question. The economy program as it now stands will allow only about $2,500,000 for relief according to legislative estimates, and Gov. Gifford Pinchot will not even grant it that much.

The Senate's plan is to adjourn finally and to vest a committee with power to act on charges of Governor Pinchot against two Public Service commissioners. If necessary, the Senate could then be recalled into special session to act on recommendations of its committee.

Representatives from the recent meeting of New England industrialists arrived in Washington today to report on their finding relative to adoption of shorter week hours.

Hoover phoned from his camp and had Secretary of Commerce Lamont and Secretary of Labor Daugherty engage them in "a preliminary conference." The President said he would return either late today and discuss the situation with them tonight, or motor back tomorrow morning and have them in.

Lamont and Daugherty, by White House direction have been "resurveying" the extent of application of the five-day week. Daugherty has scheduled the abbreviated working schedule in the Department of Labor as a substitute for the one-month furlough congress ordered for all Federal employees.

with Mr. Rentz for forty years and in his opening address reminisced on some of the things that had happened in those years of association. He then introduced Bart Richards who made the presentation address in which Mr. Rentz was given a handsome grandfather's clock.

In his address Mr. Richards said that the clock was being given not by employees as such to the employer, but by a group of men and women whose esteem for that employer was beyond the ordinary relationship between employer and employee; that it was a token of esteem for that could not be properly voiced by words nor adequately expressed in a gift.

Surprise Says Mr. Rentz
The presentation was just another surprise in a day of surprises. "If there never is another day in my life which stands out from the usual run of days, this one will have been said Mr. Rentz. This newspaper has been made what it is because of such men and women as yourselves. We have all been working towards one end and that end to make the News the best paper possible. I am proud of every one of you, proud to have been associated with you and this clock will be a daily reminder of our relationship together on the News Castle News."

Following the acceptance address of Mr. Rentz the employees sang "My Grandfather's Clock," led by Leonard W. Kisthart, Fred Scheppele, and James Jackman.

Two former editors of the paper were present, David L. Jonas and Bert Wells, each of whom was introduced by Mr. Caldwell. Mr. Jonas is a veteran of the newspaper world and was on the paper with Mr. Rentz many years ago. He expressed his pleasure at being present and wished Mr. Rentz many more years of useful service.

Mr. Wells, now a member of one of the outstanding campaign fund-raising organizations of the entire country spoke briefly in which he expressed his appreciation of what his service on The News had meant to him and Mr. Jonas, wished Mr. Rentz many more years.

The entire program was not long but was a worthwhile one. It was the one time during the day when Mr. Rentz was taken over by his employees and made to realize their esteem for him.

Appreciation Shown
In addition to the employees and guests, Mrs. James T. Ray, one of the owners of the newspaper, was reflecting her appreciation of the service of Mr. Rentz, and the following letter from Mr. A. W. Treadwell, of San Diego, California, the other owner, expressed his sentiment on the occasion:

AN APPRECIATION
Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
President and Managing Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pennsylvania.
My dear Fred:—

Fifty years is a long time for some of us. To others it is very short. To a man who has a vision and is striving to accomplish the things which will make that vision come true, fifty years is only too short. That sort of a man would like to have the years of a Methuselah.

When you came to The News on that July day in 1882, you probably had no thought of what the coming fifty years would mean to you, but as the years rolled by, no number of years seemed enough to you to do the things which you wished to do.

Think of what has been accomplished in fifty years. The world has seen more material changes since July 30th, 1882 than it saw for several thousand years previous to that date. The Telephone, the Automobile, the Wireless, the Air Transports, the thousand and one mechanical devices used to make the life of man more comfortable, have been accomplished in that time.

In the printing business, it is a long cry from the four-page Campbell Press and the little steam engine in the press room, the type stands and billiard table "stone" in the composing room, located in those close quarters in Mill Street, to the forty-eight-page Goss and the battery of the rest of the Plant of The News now in use in the beautiful building in Mercer Street. You have seen it, and by reason of your vision and your energy, you played a great part in the great accomplishment.

This fifty years of your life has been devoted to one thing and to one thing only, in the making of The News into a beautiful instrument for all things good for New Castle. Fifty years have broadened you and brought you to the full stature of manhood.

May you live many more years and continue to do all things in the manner always to command the admiration and respect which you have so justly won in the past.

Sincerely yours,
A. W. TREADWELL.

Three Men Arrested Following Complaint

Two Face Serious Charge Before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing

Early Saturday evening, complaint was received from the South Side that there was a car being operated in a reckless manner by men, who appeared to be under the influence of liquor. There were three men reported in the car.

Officers detailed on the case located the car and men on South Jefferson street. They were found to be under the influence of liquor, police report.

They gave the names of George Ritchie, "James Dodds" and Charles Khoury. The machine was found to be the property of Khoury or his family and Ritchie was acting as driver.

"James Dodds" was discharged, while the other two men were taken before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing and charged with the operation of a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Forty Passengers On Train Burned

Steam From Passing Engine Breaks Windows In Boston-New York Excursion

(International News Service)
Forty passengers in a Boston-to-New York excursion train were burned and cut early today when steam from a passing locomotive shattered windows in eleven coaches.

None of the injuries resulted in death. The train was en route when the locomotive of train No. 2, the "Owl," bound from New York to Boston, blew out an indicator plug as it sped through Grove Beach. Escaping steam shot out just as the excursion train, headed for New York, was passing. Two score windows in the excursion train were smashed, and passengers most of them asleep, were showered by glass fragments.

they welcomed the last rites as a termination of the publicity attendant to the deaths of the brothers. Hundreds of persons, friends and total strangers, poured through the little room in the Wilmerding apartment that held the three bodies.

From 300 to 500 automobiles followed the hearse in the funeral cortege. Carloads of flowers, tributes of sympathy from other states—one of them a beautiful wreath from "Al" Capone—left their cloying scents hanging over the streets in the wake of the caravan of death.

ALBERTA BRENNER WEDS BUTLER MAN SATURDAY

A pretty wedding was solemnized when Miss Alberta Brenner of the Ellwood road became the bride of Glenn Chesney of Butler, Pa., on Saturday, July 30.

The ceremony was performed at 11 o'clock at the St. Peter's Reformed church at Middle Lancaster with the Rev. Scott F. Brenner, a cousin of the bride, officiating with the double ring service.

The bride, lovely in a gown of white embroidered organdie fashioned on long graceful lines and a large white picture hat, carried an arm bouquet of rose buds and snapdragons.

Miss Margaret Brenner, the bride's sister, who was chosen as her attendant, wore a frock of blue lace with accessories in pink. Her shoulder corsage was of dainty roses of the same shade.

Jack Tiedt, a close friend of the groom, served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents. At a table prettily decorated in a color scheme of pink and white covers were laid for 12 and an abundance of summer flowers decorated the dining room throughout. Mrs. L. C. McCormick, Mrs. Fred Thompson and Miss Helen Drumm, friends of the bride, served the dinner.

Later in the day the young couple left for a northern motor tour, and after August 15 will be at home to their friends at 318 Pleasantview avenue, Butler, Pa.

Mrs. Chesney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brenner of the Ellwood road, is a graduate of the local senior high school, class of '25, and has been a teacher in the county schools. Mr. Chesney is the son of Mrs. Debra Chesney of Butler, and holds a responsible position in that city with the Bell Telephone company.

BRIDES-ELECT SHARE HONORS AT FIELD CLUB

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Moody avenue entertained at a delightful dinner-dance Saturday evening in the spacious Field club house honoring the former's niece, Miss Stella Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Phillips of Elm Court, Butler, and Miss Kathryn Stewart, a resident of the same city and classmate of Mrs. George Johnson, whose engagements have been announced.

At large tables arranged to form two large "T's" places were laid for 69 guests. Gorgeous bouquets of sweetpeas flanked the centers and entwined were other flowers of Dresden shades, presenting a very pretty setting. A delicious menu was served at 7:30 o'clock and during the balance of the evening dancing was enjoyed. An excellent program of music was provided, adding to the pleasure of the occasion.

Both the Misses Phillips and Stewart are socially prominent young women and their impending marriages will be important events of the very near future.

LAWRENCE SCHOOL REUNION AT CASCADE

The Lawrence school members chafed another successful event on their annual Friday evening when they gathered at Cascade park for their second annual picnic outing. Over three-hundred former students, families and teachers participated in gay fashion.

Dinner was served at an appropriate hour in the grove and at the close of the menu, the renewing and making of acquaintances was in order. Also, pep singing led by Mrs. Ella McMillin Kirk with the entire group joining in enlivened the social period.

A program of sports was featured and the following carried off prizes offered in the various events: race, 6 years and under, Gloria Stritzinger and Dorothy Plotts; race, contestants 6 to 10 years, Dorothy Stritzinger and Sara Harris; race 10 to 14 years, Ruth Llewellyn and Helen Stritzinger; race, 14 to 18 years, Anna Mae Smith; cracker eating and whistle contest, Mrs. Claudia Davies Nelson; ladies' tie contest, Mrs. Harry Llewellyn; ball-throwing event, Mrs. Maude Clark Swogger; three legged race, Archie Stewart and Mrs. Maude Swogger; boys' race, six years and under, Robert Nelson and Ralph Stokes; race, 6 to 10 years, Leonard Burkart and Emory Swogger; balloon race, 10 to 14 years, Robert Nelson and James Thomas.

During the business meeting that preceded, election of officers occurred who will serve the ensuing year, namely: president, Samuel Stewart; vice-president, Amelia Korman; secretary, Melvina Davies; treasurer, Mrs. Alice Bailey Young. The complete success of the affair is due to the splendid co-operation given by Attorney Mont Alley, I. Peter Grizzle, Miss Mina L. Waldman, Miss Melvina Davies, Mrs. Lewis Conn, Mrs. Harry Bailey, Harry Masters, the committee in charge who worked diligently.

Participants were present from Kittanning, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, O., Worthington, Ambidge, Hollidays Cove and many neighboring places, who voted the affair most enjoyable.

It was decided to hold the reunion in 1933 on the last Thursday in July, the place to be announced.

GOLF-BRIDGE PLANNED AT FIELD CLUB HOUSE

Tuesday evening will witness another of the combination golf-bridge socials for members of the New Castle Field club. Following the scheduled event which was postponed last week on account of rain, this occasion is anticipated to be of more unusual interest for the ladies and men of the club who play golf.

This week the husbands will play with their wives, and for husbands and wives who do not play, permission will be given to play with somebody else. They will make entries as soon as they arrive at the club and those desiring a playing partner will refer to the committee and arrangements made.

Play will begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock when the foursomes will be drawn for. Nine holes will be played and prizes are to be awarded for the low net scores for a team and also for individual men and ladies.

Following the golf tournament contract bridge will be participated in by those caring to take part with favors being presented at the close of the contest to the winners.

These weekly combination events have thus far proved very popular with the Field club membership and will be continued as long as the daylight evenings will permit.

GARDEN CLUB MEETING AT URMSON RESIDENCE

The regular meeting of the Garden club members will be held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ruth Urmson on Maitland Lane, the session to begin at 1 o'clock.

Contribute Musical Program At Reception Saturday Night

MRS. SUE HARWARD
ARMSTRONG

Music had its place in the reception tendered Fred L. Rentz Saturday evening in his home on Edison avenue, marking his 50th anniversary with the New Castle News. Nor was it music of an ordinary sort. Sue Harward Armstrong, soprano, formerly with the Metropolitan Opera, presented a song recital in the living room of the Rentz home and to those fortunate enough to be present when she sang it was the capstone of a day's events that will long be remembered.

For the singer this was a recital that needed no auditorium to be presented properly. It was the offering of an artist who has herself been outstandingly successful, to a citizen of her own city whose success has been achieved here. She was singing to her friends, for a friend, and she never sang better.

For her recital Mrs. Armstrong culled the choicest of her large repertoire. Arias from the operas, sacred numbers, folk songs that have lived for a century. And in this list of course were "Annie Laurie" and "Coming Home". Sue Harward Armstrong has sung in her home city many times. She has appeared all over the United States and in many of the foreign countries, but it is doubtful if she ever put more genuine feeling, more perfect artistry, more musicianship than she did into her recital Saturday evening.

Accompanying her was Mrs. Paul Browne Patterson, wife of Prof. Paul Browne Patterson, and organist of the First Christian church. Like Mrs. Armstrong she seemed to catch the spirit of the occasion and expressed through her talented fingers her esteem for the man being honored.

Mrs. George Westlake, an old friend of Mrs. Armstrong, was present and accompanied several numbers.

RAMBLING THROUGH THE NEWS

IN THE Lawrence county school districts action was recently taken to substitute for the annual county teacher's institute, which provides elimination of the week's program that has been presented year after year. A saving of $6,000 or so of county school funds has been made. At the present time it is suggested that there is another opportunity for saving county school taxes. The regrettable sudden death of the assistant county superintendent of schools has left a vacancy on the county payroll. The suggestion is that an investigation be made by the school directors before any action is taken to fill this position to see if it cannot without great loss, be allowed to remain vacant, for the period of the present demand for economy at least. It is the general idea that there are a considerable number of public jobs that could be made the subject of an inquiry in the matter of economy, but this one seems to present an opportunity that can be grasped.

Prosecution of a local resident by the County Welfare department on a charge of having secured county aid under false pretense should serve as a warning to others who are inclined to seek aid when they are not justly entitled to such. The county welfare department has a big enough load to carry to take care of those that are actually deserving, let alone those who would seek to impose upon the department.

Voters of Johnstown are probably now realizing that it is a mistake to hold lightly the matter of selection of a chief executive. The city has the spectacle of the mayor inviting the bonus marchers to locate their camp at Johnstown, with practically the entire city in opposition. Problem of taking care of the bonus marchers camp is one that is giving the city a lot of worry just now, and it developed entirely as a result of the action of the mayor, who has been rather an unusual political figure for some time.

According to advance reports coming from Westminster college, registrations being made for the freshman class entering the local college this fall, seem to indicate that the economic situation is brightening. The prospects are for a huge freshman class, reports indicate at this time.

DEMAND OVERTAKES SUPPLY

During the steady rise in hog prices pork rose in Chicago from the low price in 35 years to prices that brought a smile of satisfaction to farmers and traders alike and gave the country its first ray of hope in many moons. The marked advance in hog prices and improvement in cattle quotations set up a breeze which the Middle West hailed as a trade wind and which to other sections was a soothing and refreshing zephyr.

Meat price gains provide the most heartening business signs since the beginning of the depression from the viewpoint of growers, bankers, retail and mail-order business, and transportation, for they are to the agricultural states what steel and other industrial barometers are to the East.

The rise in meat prices was not the work of black magic. Production was curtailed until a shortage existed when the law of supply and demand operated to boost prices to a point permitting a margin of profit. The same thing happened in the textile industry and put many thousands of men and women to work in New England woolen mills in the last fortnight. Nor is the present situation in the stock market far removed. In all three instances conditions were ripe for a change for the better.

Steel will do the same thing when inventories have been reduced to a minimum and the demand for steel catches up with the supply. Sooner or later the railroads and other industries must begin buying and a housing shortage will develop. After all, this depression was largely the inevitable result of flagrant violations of the law of supply and demand. And this applies to virtually every line of human endeavor.

STEEL MEN OPTIMISTIC

Though steel production has been at the lowest in the history of the present large steel corporations, the industry's future is encouraging. The very fact that it has been at a point where it could not go much lower places it in a position for advancement.

Leaders in the industry apparently anticipate early gains. The United States Corporation would not have paid a dividend on its preferred stock for the last quarters had it not felt confident of a business upturn during the next quarter. Had the prospects been hopeless there certainly would have been no dividend last quarter.

Reports from the steel centers are encouraging. The Pittsburgh district is optimistic, with five large mills either resuming operations or increasing their production. The adjusted index of steel mill operations rose last week from 19.8 to 21.2, and the rate of ingot production advanced slightly to 16.5 per cent of capacity.

The United States Steel Corporation is not acting in the dark. Its directorate covers the whole field of manufactures and finance, giving it a composite view of the future based on other factors than present industrial operations.

That news item about bandits forcing a grocer "to lay" on the floor explains certain eggs.

Not a single American citizen was shot during recent South American revolutions. Perhaps all sides were hopeful of obtaining loans.

"Sunny now some people think of the dumb animals first. The only thing that stopped a leather-lunged Texas candidate was the death of his pet hound.

Peddlers of depression caps remind us of the biographer who wrote up for the post-convention market a life story of the dark horse who is still in the dark.

More publicity, to be sure! The sumptuous New Orleans apartment in which burglars found only 11 cents should have been posted, "Insufficient funds."

Little Girl Sewing
Sewing a Fine Seam
That's Your Job

By MARSHALL MASLIN

A little girl no longer a baby, but far from being a woman, sits over there on the davenport and sews on a dress for her doll.

Is quiet as a mouse. Bends her little head forward in grave attention. Moves her small fingers in and out, in and out. So very busily. Lifts her head at last, holds the dress up for people to see, smiles proudly, says "There, isn't that a fine seam?"

Yes, it's a very fine seam, indeed. So neat, so regular, so strong. A good piece of work for a little girl, or for anybody. She ought to be proud of it. Even prouder than she is. It's quite a job to sew a fine seam and make it so neat and so strong. And that practice will come in handy later on, when she's all grown up and has other fine sewing to do.

Little girl, I don't mean fine sewing with a needle and thread and bits of cloth. I mean other sewing that is far more important. I mean sewing up the seams of life, the seams between you and living, between you and other people, between you and your dreams. There will be tasks to try all your skill and your patience and all the experience you will ever have.

You don't know about that, do you? You've never thought of seams in life, have you? Life's just living now and you don't know much about the seams you'll be meeting later on. You're not aware, are you, of what the poet wrote? That

One by one, one by one,
Stitches of the hours run
Through the fine seams of the day;
Till like a garment it is done
And laid away.

You do not know that some day when you marry you'll be stitching your dreams with the dreams of another person and doing that task so neatly that it will be one whole, harmonious whole and stronger at the seam than anywhere else. And you'll be sewing seams between peace and unrest, and joy and grief, and sickness and health, and even, some day, between living and not living, and between all the clamor that is around you now and the quiet that is beyond this life we know.

Many a fine seam you'll be sewing Young Woman, in the years you'll be living on this earth. And the stronger you sew the happier you'll be—and don't forget it.

WHAT HE STILL OWNS

He thought he had his fortune, but the market went to smash, someone closed his large account before he'd drawn the cash. And someone wrote the figures down, and when the balance came He'd only eyes to see with and two legs to bear his frame.

He had a bit of property he'd boasted of to his friends. But the bankers held the deed to it for money they had loaned. Now someone else has title to that piece of city land, But at the end of either arm there's still a nimble hand.

He still has ears for hearing and two cheeks for children's stroke. No one has claimed his right to laugh when someone tells a joke. He still has all the wisdom he has gathered through the years, And many a cripple envies him whenever he appears.

He still has health and vigor and the future for his dreams. A warrior, hale and rugged, fit for battle still he seems. But someone changed the figures on a blackboard and he's sad. Because he thinks he lost some stuff he never really had.

TROUBLE-MAKERS

"She is all right, but" This is often heard when two women are speaking of another woman.

It is a catty way of making a disparaging remark.

Often it carries an intimation that the other woman does not bear the best of reputation.

You say you never make a derogatory remark about anyone but it is not true that you often create an impression with malicious intent?

Perhaps all you have against the woman is a personal prejudice or dislike.

You cannot point to a single instance in which the woman discussed has stepped beyond the bounds of proper conduct.

But you dislike her, so you do not hesitate to cast a cloud over her reputation.

If you are this sort of woman you do not deserve the good will or the friendship of either men or women. You are a trouble maker of despicable character.

You have within you little to admire, much that makes you a disgrace to womanhood in its best sense. It is quite improbable that you have always conducted yourself in a discreet way.

What if some of your indiscretions should be made public?

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A group of American tourists were being taken through the National Gallery of London. In one alcove was a giant-sized picture of one of the saints suffering the agonies of martyrdom. TO AVOID CHOOSING THE WRONG FORK, CHOOSE NONE UNTIL THE HOSTESS DOES

There are few pastimes more absurd than argument. And there are few experiences more humiliating than exposing one's ignorance.

The two activities may be distinct and separate, but people who habitually indulge in one seldom escape the other.

Argument is not discussion. The primary object of discussion is to uncover the truth. When intelligent people with similar or contrary opinions begin a discussion, each presents his idea and the evidence to support it, as in argument; but both are willing to learn, and neither thinks the discussion a failure if he acquires knowledge.

Argument, on the contrary, is a contest in which neither of the adversaries desires to learn.

Each begins the contest with opinions and ideas full-formed and sanctified by his vanity, and his purpose is to defend these at any sacrifice of truth or logic while proving his adversary a simpleton.

Since the sole purpose or argument is the defeat of the opposition, facts and reason are disregarded when noise and personal insult seem more effective.

In the end neither contestant will admit defeat, lest he gratify the other; but the one in error is secretly convinced despite his stubborn denial, and the fact that he has exposed his ignorance and so vehemently defended it does cruel hurt to his vanity.

It is an experience commonly suffered by all who waste time in argument, but one easily avoided.

The way to avoid exposing your ignorance is to be always right.

If you are right and know you are right, you can survive discussion or argument without loss of poise or temper, content in the knowledge that facts will prove you right in the end.

But how can you be always right? By the simple expedient, but you can keep still about things you don't know. And by making this a practice, you can have the assurance that no controversy ever will catch you in the wrong.

Discord In Germany Viewed As Prelude To Show-Down

Americans Find Much Uncertainty Attaching To Dictatorship And Speculate As To Strength Of Monarchists In Republic

Just how Germany is to pull out of her present involved political situation world opinion does not attempt to suggest. But, in common with all other nationalities, America watches with interest her efforts toward re-establishing peace among her discordant political elements.

"Both the Communists and Nazis in Germany have been working obliquely to turn the government into a dictatorship—that is, with the mental reservations by each group that it alone should select the dictator," asserts the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, as it sees in present conditions in Prussia "some degree of poetic justice, at least, in the action of Hindenburg in placing both parties under a dictatorship favored by neither, as the most practical means of keeping them from disturbing the general peace and order of Germany in their eagerness to kill one another."

"Observing 'strongly marked differences between the Prussian state government and the German republic's Federal government,' the RENO GAZETTE recalls that 'to overcome the influence of Prussia it has been suggested that division into smaller states might be advisable,' but feels that 'this is not regarded as likely to be attempted.' The MONTREAL STAR believes that 'the German people, if they are determined not to be ridden again like a war horse and sent to slaughter, can strike a brave blow for their freedom.' The SAN DIEGO UNION, suspicious of the dictatorship, warns that 'the same breed, the same methods, and the same ideals will produce disaster again.' The NEW YORK WORLD-TELEGRAM sees in the career of Hindenburg revelation as to 'how lack of aggressive democratic leadership in highest places of government tends toward the destruction of democratic forms.' The NORTH ADAMS EVENING TRANSCRIPT notes that 'ostensibly the banishment of the Prussian state government by the president of the German Reich and the assumption of authority over the state by the von Papen Federal government was undertaken to put an end to the rioting between communists and Hitler fascists that had reached alarming proportions within the past few weeks,' but declares that 'there are grounds for the suspicion that the disorders were permitted so that the cabinet might be evicted.' Asserting that 'a question mark looms over European affairs as President von Hindenburg appoints Fritz von Papen virtually dictator of Prussia,' the DAVENPORT DEMOCRAT says: 'But what, in the last, will come out of the turmoil, is on the knees of the gods. The cables will tell the story as the summer goes by.'

"The new decrees should temporarily avert the threat of civil war, since the Communists are not strong enough to go to the streets against the government, while the fascists will hardly dare risk their chances at the polls," asserts the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR. "Has the Reich seized Prussia, or is Prussia seizing the Reich?" comments the HARTFORD DAILY TIMES. "On the face of the reports from Germany the central government has taken direct and dictatorial control of the largest province and most important political subdivision in the nation. Prior to the war Prussia wholly dominated Germany. It was the Junkerism of Prussia which made Kaiserism and constituted the militarized state. From the same class which then ruled Prussia, President von Hindenburg has selected the present rules of that area, to whom, temporarily at least, has been entrusted the power of the 'iron hand.' How extensive is this area is shown by the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW, noting that 'Prussia has 38,000,000 of Germany's 63,000,000 people.' This paper explains that 'Von Hindenburg's resolute action, therefore, is equivalent to our Federal government's setting up a dictatorship over a great part of the region east of the Mississippi,' and concludes that 'the outlook is not encouraging.'

Many papers are asking if recent developments portend a return to the monarchy in Germany. As the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL phrases it: 'The action of the von Papen cabinet, the government of barons, as it is called, in taking control of Prussia forces the issue of possible monarchy before the people.' The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A REGULAR PRINCE

In a London hospital lay Peter Garvie, a small boy who had to have several stitches taken to close a wound. The nurse asked Peter what he wanted to be when he grew up. He told her he wanted to be a life guard.

"Remember, life guards don't cry," the nurse told small Peter, while the stitches were being taken. "Perhaps if you won't cry the Prince of Wales will make you one of his life guards."

It happened that only a few days later the prince visited the hospital. Peter saw him. "Say, I want to be a life guard," he called out. The nurse explained, and also told the prince how brave the boy had been.

Two days later a little life guard's uniform complete in every detail, was sent to Peter Garvie with a card: "From the Prince of Wales."

Bible Thought For Today

PEACE AND TRUTH:—Thus saith the Lord, Call unto me, and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not.—Behold, I will bring it to pass, saith the Lord, that they shall be at peace, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.—Jeremiah 33: 2, 3, 6.

The Affair of the Bonus Marchers

The right of petition is not to be denied. The right of any organization to go to Washington in a lawful and peaceable manner to present petitions is likewise not to be denied. But from the time Coxey's Army invaded the Nation's capital years ago up to the present day the movements designed to coerce Congress have never attained their object. Their cause is always hurt.

The "march" of the veterans was a poor conception. Representative committees urging today their case in an orderly manner have more influence than thousands of men camping in and around Washington and openly proclaiming that they intend to remain until they get what they are after. This is plainly intimidation, and must everywhere be so recognized.

The "bonus marchers" were not restrained from entering the District of Columbia. They have influence, for many weeks been treated with consideration. They have been supplied with food. But they were asking the impossible. The Government is in no position to hand out hundreds of millions—millions extending into the billions. The thing simply can not be done. Taxes are too burdensome to be added to. When cash payment of the bonus was refused, the last excuse for the veterans to remain fell. Transportation home for those who wished to go was recommended by President Hoover and provided by Congress. A great many wisely took advantage of the offer. Others who declined were not wise.

No armies of men can invade any community and settle there with no visible means of self-support without becoming a burden upon that community. It isn't fair. These camps inevitably became a menace to health and their occupants to a considerable extent became objects of charity. Threats that they would be maintained and that their ranks of depleted forces would be refilled with fresh recruits created a serious situation. In instances the men have been earnestly seeking their bonus and have been deceived into thinking that they could obtain it in others they have unquestionably joined the demonstration as a lark.

But mingling among them have been Communists who have sought to provoke disturbances, and no lawful and peaceable manner to present petitions is likewise not to be denied. But from the time Coxey's Army invaded the Nation's capital years ago up to the present day the movements designed to coerce Congress have never attained their object. Their cause is always hurt.

Daily Digest

Whether the ministry intends to overthrow the republic has not been disclosed, but at least one of the cabinet has declared that he favored the old regime as the best suited to the German people. Anyway, the Junker-Monarchist-Militarist crowd is in the saddle again and is exerting the same kind of mailed-fist pressure that typified the old order. Truly Germany is at the crossroads, one way leading back to monarchy, one in the direction of Fascism, and one returning to Constitutionalism.

"That there is a strong monarchist sentiment in Germany all concede," is the statement of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which suggests that the Fascists may exploit that sentiment for their own advantage is one of the probabilities of the present tense situation.

The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS says: "The threat to democracy, as established under the constitution of 1919, cannot be minimized. On three fronts the moderate liberals find themselves flanked. Political chaos may be on the march." The SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS points out that "the excesses committed by reactionaries and Reds have caused the present antagonism between moderate elements in Germany," and declares that "they should reach an understanding and thereby save their country from further disorder and bloodshed." Giving von Papen credit for "trying to save Germany in a trying hour," the CLEVELAND NEWS states: "If he succeeds, he then will have a chance to show that the 'old nobility' is willing to help the fatherland muddle through with democracy. After restoring order throughout Prussia, he can let that state return to popular government."

"That a dictatorship ought to be the last extremity of a government which cannot maintain itself in any other way" is the contention of the YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR, which, however, feels that in Germany "the dictatorship will continue indefinitely." The comfort that the present situation gives to Hitler is condemned by the FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM, which declares: "Hitler is not a German. He more nearly resembles a soldier of fortune than any other figure in the public eye. It isn't at all difficult to vision a greatly improved Germany with his personality removed." Recalling that "the American republic squandered more than 30 billions, that the world might be made safe for democracy," the AKRON BEACON-JOURNAL comments that "it is presently more than safe for dictators." The DULUTH HERALD remarks: "Meanwhile the royal prancing at Doorn keeps on, quietly sawing the fates, and ready for whatever the gods may have in store for him and the rest of the Hohenzollerns."

Considerable confidence is expressed in von Hindenburg. As the NEW YORK SUN says: "The present situation in Prussia is delicate and critical with potentialities for explosion anywhere. Confidence in the discretion of the old field marshal, together with a belief that in such emergencies it is not a bad idea to have a competent driver holding the reins leads to a general expectation that the crisis will not be unduly prolonged." The SPRINGFIELD (MASS.) REPUBLICAN states: "For the future of the German republic the question of paramount importance is whether this reign of martial law is but an interlude during an alleged emergency or whether one emergency is to lead to another, putting democratic rule in peril."

The TACOMA LEDGER sees renewed confidence in Hindenburg, and concludes that "two unsuccessful attempts of Hitler to win over the government having been made, fear in this country of what the Nazi leader or Communists may accomplish has diminished considerably."

WE MAY DREAM

Of success but only work will bring it to pass. Of happiness but we cannot have it without giving it away. Of strength but it does not come without great labor. Of independence but it is never won without a struggle. Of liberty but those who possess it must be ever ready to defend it. Of heaven but it is not the heritage of the dreamers. Of peace but it never comes to those who make no war on their own faults.

REV. GEO. M. LANDIS PRESENTS HIS REASONS FOR HIS RESIGNATION

morning and long before 9:30 the church auditorium, balcony and Sunday school room was filled with men of the church, visiting Men's Bible classes from other churches and friends.

Twin Brother Here
The S. R. Houk orchestra of Castlewood played sacred numbers as the audience filed to their seats, and when all were assembled George Fox read the scripture lesson from Luke and introduced Mr. Landis' twin brother, Joseph, of Cleveland, Ohio, who occupied a seat on the pulpit. J. M. Houk of the Slippery Rock Presbyterian Sunday school offered the morning prayer and the Harlansburg Baptist male chorus sang a number of selections.

Mrs. M. E. Vaughn, secretary of the Sabbath School Association brought the farewell greetings. O. A. Rodgers of the Highland United Presbyterian church, spoke on behalf of the visiting men's classes. Robert M. Strickler spoke for the Sabbath School Association and introduced the officers of that organization, who were present. Mr. Landis spoke his appreciation of the splendid tributes offered by these men, and Mrs. Landis was called to the platform to share the honors with her husband.

Present Tokens
W. M. Butler, teacher of the McKinney Bible class of the First Presbyterian church, on behalf of his class and the Monday night prayer group, then spoke words of commendation for one who had aided them so materially in presenting Biblical truths, and for his class, he presented Mr. Landis with a handsome Bible.

Misses Helen Hill and Helen Houk sang a duet and "Red" Williams read a letter from the Men's class of the church, addressed to Mr. Landis as their teacher.

At this point in the program a stalwart Indian, in full dress, strolled down the aisle, carrying in his hand a roll of parchment and a pipe of peace, and when asked by Mr. Fox as to why he was there and what he brought, he replied he had come from a band of men and brought much love. He handed to Mr. Fox the parchment roll, which turned out to be a copy of the letter read by Mr. Williams, and then he offered the pipe of peace, which was handed to Mr. and Mrs. Landis, and in looking in the bowl of the pipe, Mr. Landis pulled forth a piece of paper, which in reality was a check from his men of $100. The Indian was Owen Fox.

Mr. Landis thanked the men for their kindness and tribute of love, and after "Red" Williams had led the audience in the singing of "Till We Meet Again" the Sunday school session adjourned.

Church Session
The church session began at eleven o'clock and every available seat in the building was occupied by members of the congregation and friends, gathered to hear Mr. Landis make his farewell address.

John Owens led the congregation in the opening hymn after which the pastor read the Psalm of Strength, 121, and a portion of the twentieth chapter of Acts. The choir then sang an especially arranged anthem, "God Bless Our Pastor," which the solo parts taken by Mrs. Stanley Reesé and W. O. Williams.

Robert Strickler, Jr. read a resolution and statement of the congregation, commending Mr. Landis for the progress of the congregation during his pastorate, and regretting the severance of ties that had bound them for the past seven and one-half years. A copy of this was given the pastor.

The choir then sang the anthem "Thou Will Keep Him in Perfect Peace," and the pastor arose and addressed the congregation, setting forth just what had prompted him in taking this step.

Pastor's Reasons
Mr. Landis then proceeded to tell the congregation of his beliefs as founded on the New Testament. He said he believed these things when he came to New Castle, he tried to teach them, and today more firmly believes them than ever.

He then stated, "Perhaps you have noticed in this declaration of faith we have made no reference to church organization, policy and government. Of this we now desire to speak. He said in part:

In accordance with the promise made when my resignation was read a few weeks ago, it is now my purpose to set forth the reasons which have led me to take this action. Justice to the congregation which has supported us so loyally during the past seven and one-half years demands that I give these reasons.

Already rumors are afloat to the effect that I am leaving because the church has not supported me as it should have done; because certain individuals in the church have opposed me; because the congregation found it necessary to reduce my salary.

Let me say most emphatically that none of these are my reasons for resigning. The congregation has most loyally and graciously supported us. It is not to be expected that in a group of a thousand persons all should see eye to eye with us. Perhaps they show rare spiritual discernment and good judgment by not agreeing with us in everything. However, we are amazed at the almost unanimous approval of our ministry. As regarding the recent reduction in our salary, it was eminently just and proper. Money did not bring us here, and money is not taking us away.

pressed in countless ways during the past years.

From the early years of our Christian experience we recognized that there were many things in modern church life which were not found in the New Testament. For time this gave us but little concern. We regretted that departure from New Testament principles, but supposed that good men through-out the ages had altered certain practices as they believed the circumstances demanded. We felt that it was for us to accept the status quo and make the best of the situation.

However, about 14 years ago, as we studied the Word and sought to conform our faith and practice to its precepts and precedents, we discovered that there were a number of doctrines and practices authorized by the communion of which we were members, and in which we were then ministering which we could no longer defend, much less declare to others. Consequently we withdrew from that denomination and looked around to see if there was a body of Christians with whom we could agree, and who seemed to be the most nearly in accord with the Holy Scriptures.

At that time we felt definitely led to the Baptist church, with whose doctrines and practices we were in substantial agreement. We were impressed with the fact that the Bible was declared to be the only rule of faith and practice. We revealed in the doctrines of grace which were held by the congregation, which we thereafter served. We enjoyed the Christian liberty which the Baptist church afforded us. In its fold we have spent thirteen happy years of service and fellowship. Therein we have a host of devoted friends whose love we shall ever cherish. It has been our privilege to enjoy the fellowship of a number of consecrated ministers of the Word, men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, men who would die for the "faith once for all delivered unto the saints."

During the subsequent years, as we have ministered in three Baptist Churches, and as we have continued to study the Scripture; we have been tremendously impressed with the wide difference between the church of today and that of the New Testament.

About the time these questions were perplexing us, we discovered that there were a number of companies of devout Christians who were meeting along New Testament lines and were endeavoring to maintain the "simplicity which is in Christ." We were impressed with the evangelistic zeal, the missionary fervor, the almost unbelievable knowledge of the Scriptures possessed by the rank and file of these believers. While we would not be so bold as to affirm that they approached the high standard of spiritual power and effectiveness manifested by the New Testament Church; we had to concede that there were far in advance of the standards of the various denominational churches.

So, being a good Baptist, we went to our only rule of faith and practice, the Holy Scripture. Previous experience had demonstrated the wisdom of such a course. Surely we could not be blamed for going to the fountain head of all authority for the church on earth.

Therefore, as we carefully and prayerfully pursued our search of the New Testament, we were not surprised or shocked to find many facts concerning church truth which were absolutely contrary to the views and practices generally held throughout Christendom, and even in the Baptist denomination. We found that human tradition and human expediency had in many points supplanted, amended or altered the simple teaching of the New Testament relative to the church. What path should the child of God take in the light of these facts? Should we acquiesce to the practices of man, even of good and devoted men; and make the best of the situation as we found it? Having been instructed in and having instructed others in the Baptist principle of making the New Testament the sole rule of faith and practice; there was but one thing we could do, whatever the personal cost might be, and that one thing was to obey the word of God.

Summary Of Views
He spoke of modernism creeping into the churches and in summing up his address he said:

An to summarize the result of this investigation of our church position in the light of the New Testament, we have found:

1. The truth of the unity of the church is practically denied by the present denominational system;
2. The Divine order for the worship of the church is not being observed in the present denominational system;
3. The Divine order for the ministry and government of the church is not observed in the denominational systems of today, and that
4. Modernism is making rapid inroads in our own denomination and is fast gaining the reigns of power.

To hold the views which we have above set forth renders our present position impossible to continue, for the following reasons:

We must be loyal to the Word of God as we see it. We must be true to our own conscience. And we must be loyal to the church whose salary we receive, and whose acceptance of whose pastorate involved the furtherance of its doctrines and welfare. To remain as your pastor we would have had to have been disloyal either to you or to our own conscience as enlightened by the Word of God. To teach the views which we have herein set forth would certainly be detrimental to the present organization and policy of this church. Whatever sins may be laid to our charge, we have never stabbed the hand that fed us or betrayed the trust reposed to us. But, my beloved friends, I must at all costs be loyal to the blessed One who redeemed me by His precious blood; I must be loyal to the Word of God; I must be loyal to my own conscience.

THEREFORE, after much prayer for guidance, I feel that but one course is open to me. To take this course is the most difficult thing I have ever been called upon to do. That course is to resign from the pastorate of this church and from the Baptist ministry.

I have not sought to lead others with me, much as I would like to see every Christian walking according to the simple truth of God's Word; hence I have reserved this declaration until my last day with you. As long as I have been in this pulpit I have been loyal to it. However, I must witness to the fact that the announcement of my resignation has brought great peace of heart and conscience. I may have made a terrible mistake. But to my own Master must I stand or fall. Someday I must stand before his judgment seat, where the motives of my heart will be revealed. In the light of that day, I can take no other course than to renounce all denominational alignments in favor of simple fellowship with the Lord Jesus Christ and with those who gather to His Name alone, in the simplicity of New Testament worship.

If asked, "to what do you now belong?" my answer is, "I belong to Christ." "But," someone may add, "under what name do you now gather?" "I gather unto the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ; and surely no greater privilege can be mine." "Where will you worship?" another may inquire. "I will worship with fellow believers in Christ, who meet only in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ, in accordance with New Testament simplicity, and who are sound in life and doctrine."

I leave with a heart filled to overflowing with Christian love for each one of you. I covet for you God's choicest blessings. I deeply appreciate the countless things which you have done for me and my family. Never will I cease to thank God for every remembrance of you.

"And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the Word of His grace, which is able to build you up and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified" (Acts 20:32). Make it in fact as well as in theory "the only rule of your faith and practice," for "heaven and earth shall pass away, but My Word shall not pass away."

Signed,
GEO. M. LANDIS.

Defendants Petition To Open Judgment

Claim That Advantage Was Taken Of Their Inability
To Read English

Petition by defendant to open judgment was presented at court this morning in the case of Frank S. Moran against John and Mary Wadelka, in which an execution had been issued by the sheriff.

Defendants claim that they are unable to read or write the English language and that misleading representations were made to them by Moran in selling them 35 lots of the North Pittsburgh Realty Company in the fourth ward.

They claim that they were induced to sign a mortgage which was larger than they understood that they were signing. It was upon this mortgage that an execution was issued.

Judge Hildebrand granted a rule on Moran to show cause why the judgment should not be opened in order that testimony may be taken on all the facts surrounding the case. Judge Hildebrand made the rule returnable on August 15th. Meanwhile the property will not be sold.

Ago, Re-interred

Through the efforts of A. S. Johnston, 706 Wallace avenue, Vandegrift, and the Father's Council of the American Legion of Vandegrift, the body of a Civil War veteran, who was formerly a resident of this district has been taken from a pauper's grave and placed in a cemetery there with a suitable marker thereon.

The body of the man, Isaac N. Dean, was found in an abandoned coal mine at Mamont, near Vandegrift. It bore a G. A. R. button and the only thing known about the man was that his name was Isaac Dean.

For several years, the body lay in the potter's field, until the matter was brought to the attention of the American Legion Father's council, who had the body re-interred in a plot donated by the Vandegrift Cemetery Association, and a marker was placed thereon.

A review of the files of "History of Pennsylvania Volunteers," published in 1870, reveals that Isaac N. Dean was a member of Co. K, 100th Pennsylvania Roundhead Regiment, P. V. I. Mahoning Valley Grange Picnic Is Set For August 11Annual Picnic To Be At Lake
wood Beach; Other News
Of Grange

The regular meeting of the Mahoning Valley Grange was held Tuesday evening, July 26, with Fred Knoll, master, in the chair. It was a very interesting meeting as the lecturer had a roll call in response to the question—"Does the farmer need a vacation or not?" Songs were sung by the audience.

Mrs. Edith Robinson told about a trip this summer. Many historical places of interest were visited. The roses were at their best in Washington, while Mrs. Robinson was there, being equal to greenhouse roses.

Others told of trips they had taken. Helen Jane Martin told of a trip to Florida. Mrs. Jane Walters told incidents of vacations they had had when they were children. Mrs. Nellie Kyle related interesting things about a trip they had enjoyed in the mountains last fall having gone in October. The scenery was beautiful. Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Kyle were visitors and Mr. Kyle spoke.

The Grangers were pleased with the new stage curtains recently installed.

The Grange picnic will take place Thursday, August 11, at Lakewood Beach. It will be a basket picnic. Dinner will be served at 12 o'clock eastern standard time.

CHERRIES LOAD DOWN TREES IN NEW YORK STATE

New Castle motorists, who have just returned home from Westfield and Buffalo, declare that never before have they seen as many cherries as are loading down the trees of New York state.

Since it costs orchard owners as much to have them picked from the trees as can be gotten from selling them, the cherries are going to waste on the trees. In some cases the orchard owners are allowing people to bring their buckets and tubs to the trees and pick as much of the fruit as they desire, at a nominal fee per pound. But although hundreds of pounds are removed this way, many of the trees are never touched.

ELECTION IN GERMANY RESULTS IN DEADLOCK

Political Tangle In Germany After Sunday Elections

Communists And Centrists Of Former Chancellor Bruening Hold Key Position

HITLER FORCES DOUBLE SEATS

Deadlock Leaves Von Papen And Junkers Government In Power Until September

By EDWARD L. DEUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 1.—A political stalemate existed in Germany today as a result of the National Reichstag elections, with the communists and centrists of former Chancellor Heinrich Brüning holding the keys to the situation.

The deadlock left Chancellor Franz von Papen and his junkers government still at the helm until September, when the new Reichstag will convene, and left the various parties until then to work out their destinies by outlining some sort of a coalition, possible, with which to rule the Reich.

Ten Meet Death

The high lights of the election, which was preceded by a campaign of unprecedented excitement and bloodshed, climaxed by ten deaths and hundreds of injuries during the voting were:

Adolf Hitler's fascists more than doubled their 1930 representation in the legislative body, turning their 107 seats into 230. The total vote for the Nazis was 13,733,000, only slightly more than Hitler polled in the Presidential elections and thus indicating the Nazi tide has reached or neared its climax, but a climax nevertheless, which leaves the fascists by far the strongest party in the nation.

Coalition Fails
The Nationalists of Alfred Hugenberg failed to garner many seats as their supporters had hoped they would, getting only 44. Thus their projected coalition with Hitler's national socialists was not possible since they would by far lack the necessary majority.

Despairing predictions they would lose ground, the communists staged a sensational gain of 12 seats by polling 5,300,000 votes and thereby surprising all other parties.

They will control 89 seats, the third largest single party.

The socialists lost 10 seats and more than 500,000 votes, holding the 133 Reichstag seats.

Heinrich Brüning's Catholic centrists increased their 68 seats to 76.

Hiking Evangelist Will Speak Tonight

Edwin A. Foley has travelled over 400,000 miles in spreading the Gospel.

This evening at 8 o'clock Edwin A. Foley, the hiking evangelist, who has travelled over 400,000 miles in the past ten years, and is now sixty-four years old, will speak at the Pennsylvania Power Company corner on the Diamond.

Mr. Foley, who dresses in the garb of a hiker, with khaki shirt, open at the neck and brown trousers tucked into leggings, was gassed by carbon monoxide twelve years ago and was pronounced dead for four days and ten hours, and after coming from this comatose state, he was obliged to keep in the open and he took up evangelistic work, undemonstrational and traveled from place to place, getting into personal contact with people and teaching the Golden Rule.

His subject is "Peace of Mind and How to Attain It".

Prior to the accident which led him into his present work, Mr. Foley was an actor.

Warn Shippers To Get Protection

Shippers Are Liable If Truck Hauling Shipment Causes Damage

Attention of shippers in Lawrence county is called to the fact that they are liable in case of damage by trucks hauling their goods.

According to a circular received by the Chamber of Commerce from the Clinton Manufacturers and Shippers Association of Clinton, Ia., many facts in this regard are brought out.

"If you ship by truck you should inform yourself on the following subjects, the circular states:

Is the truck line insured against property loss and damage, and to what amount? This does not mean only the loss or damage to the goods in transit, but should also cover the damage to property caused by the truck.

Is the truck line insured against personal liability, and to what amount?

With what insurance company does the truck line carry insurance, and what is the expiration date of the policy?

If you contract with a truck line to haul freight for you and the truck line has an accident while your merchandise is being transported, do you know that you are a party to the act?

We are sending out this warning because recently two cases have come to our attention where trucks caused the deaths of persons and were sued for $10,000. The trucks were not covered by insurance and the trucks were mortgaged to the limit. Joint suits were instituted, the owners of the merchandise were responsible concerns and they were held for payment.

Some truck lines carry only the minimum insurance. This would not be sufficient to cover if several persons lost their lives or if severe property damage was caused.

It is highly important for everyone using truck service to inform themselves as to whether or not they would be dragged into a costly suit if the truck line carrying their merchandise had an accident.

A solid, dependable truck line should be only too glad to furnish you this information. If a truck line cannot give you the information desired, we would warn you to be very careful about such a company.

New Quarters Not Received
New Twenty-Five Cent Pieces Due For Circulation Today, Fail To Arrive

Although announcement was made by Robert J. Grant, director of mint, that the new George Washington quarter would be available at all local banks today, none had been received in New Castle, in inquiry at the different banks this morning revealed.

No word had been received at any of the banks, officials stated, of when they would be available here.

The new quarters are minted from the design by George F. Flanagan, noted sculptor. They are the first to bear the head of Washington. The Philadelphia mint is turning out $1,350,000 worth. The Denver mint $1,090,000 worth and the San Francisco mint $1,030,000 worth. More will be coined as currency needs dictate.

The new pieces will supersede the 25-cent pieces in use up to date. The die for the latter has been in use since 1917. Criticism has been general in regard to the ease with which the date becomes effaced from the present coin.

Hoover Working Out Big Reconstruction Program For Future

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A nine-point program of economic reconstruction was outlined by President.

Activities under this program will extend to all branches of industry and agriculture. They are based upon the expanded power of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., in the relief bill. The President proposed to confer with business and industrial committees created in the various Federal Reserve districts when the program is finally completed.

"With a view to establishing a broad front throughout the country."

During the last week or more a series of conferences has been conducted, business and industrial leaders meeting the President, along with Secretary Mills, Secretary Lamont and officials of the Federal Reserve board and reconstruction Finance Corp.

In administering the self-liquidating program for which $1,500,000,000 was made available in the relief bill, an engineer will be delegated by the army engineering corps to head a board to aim at expediting the work and creation of new employment.

Coordinated Program
Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, members of the Federal Farm Loan board and the Federal Farm Board were told to place themselves at the disposal of the R. F. C. so as to develop a coordinated program to provide adequately for livestock and feeder loans and to solve other agricultural problems under the leadership of the corporation.

"The Reconstruction Corporation is devoting attention to the possibilities of financing the movement of agricultural commodities into consumption with a view to stimulating demands through restoration of orderly marketing," Mr. Hoover said.

"We are discussing the possible supplement of such efforts by private agencies."

"We have also taken up the subject of organized coordination of the wider expansion of credit facilities to business and industry through business, the banks and Federal Reserve banks, particularly for the purpose of supplying full credit for production where consumption of goods is assured and thus materially expand employment which has been hampered by dislocation of the credit machinery."

Electric Clock Given Mr. Rentz

Included among the remembrances that were given to Fred L. Rentz, Saturday, on the occasion of his fiftieth anniversary with The News, was an electric clock that made its appearance upon his desk during the afternoon.

Along with the clock, which was a gift from the Pennsylvania Power Company, was the following:

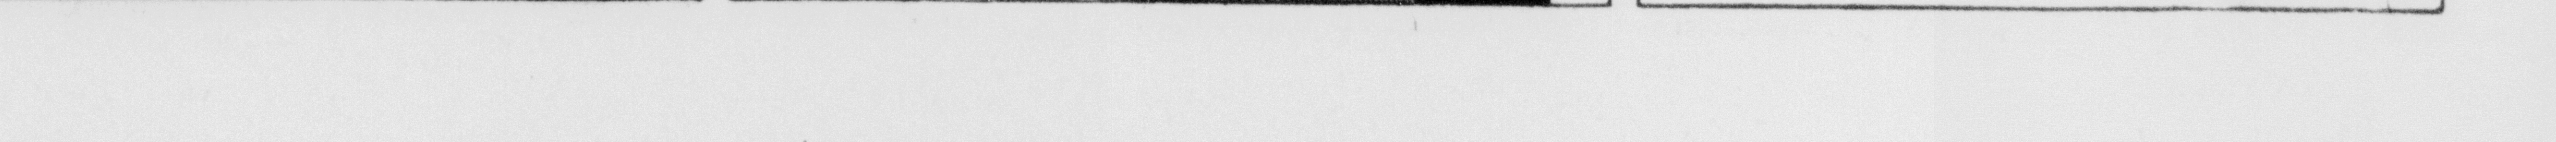

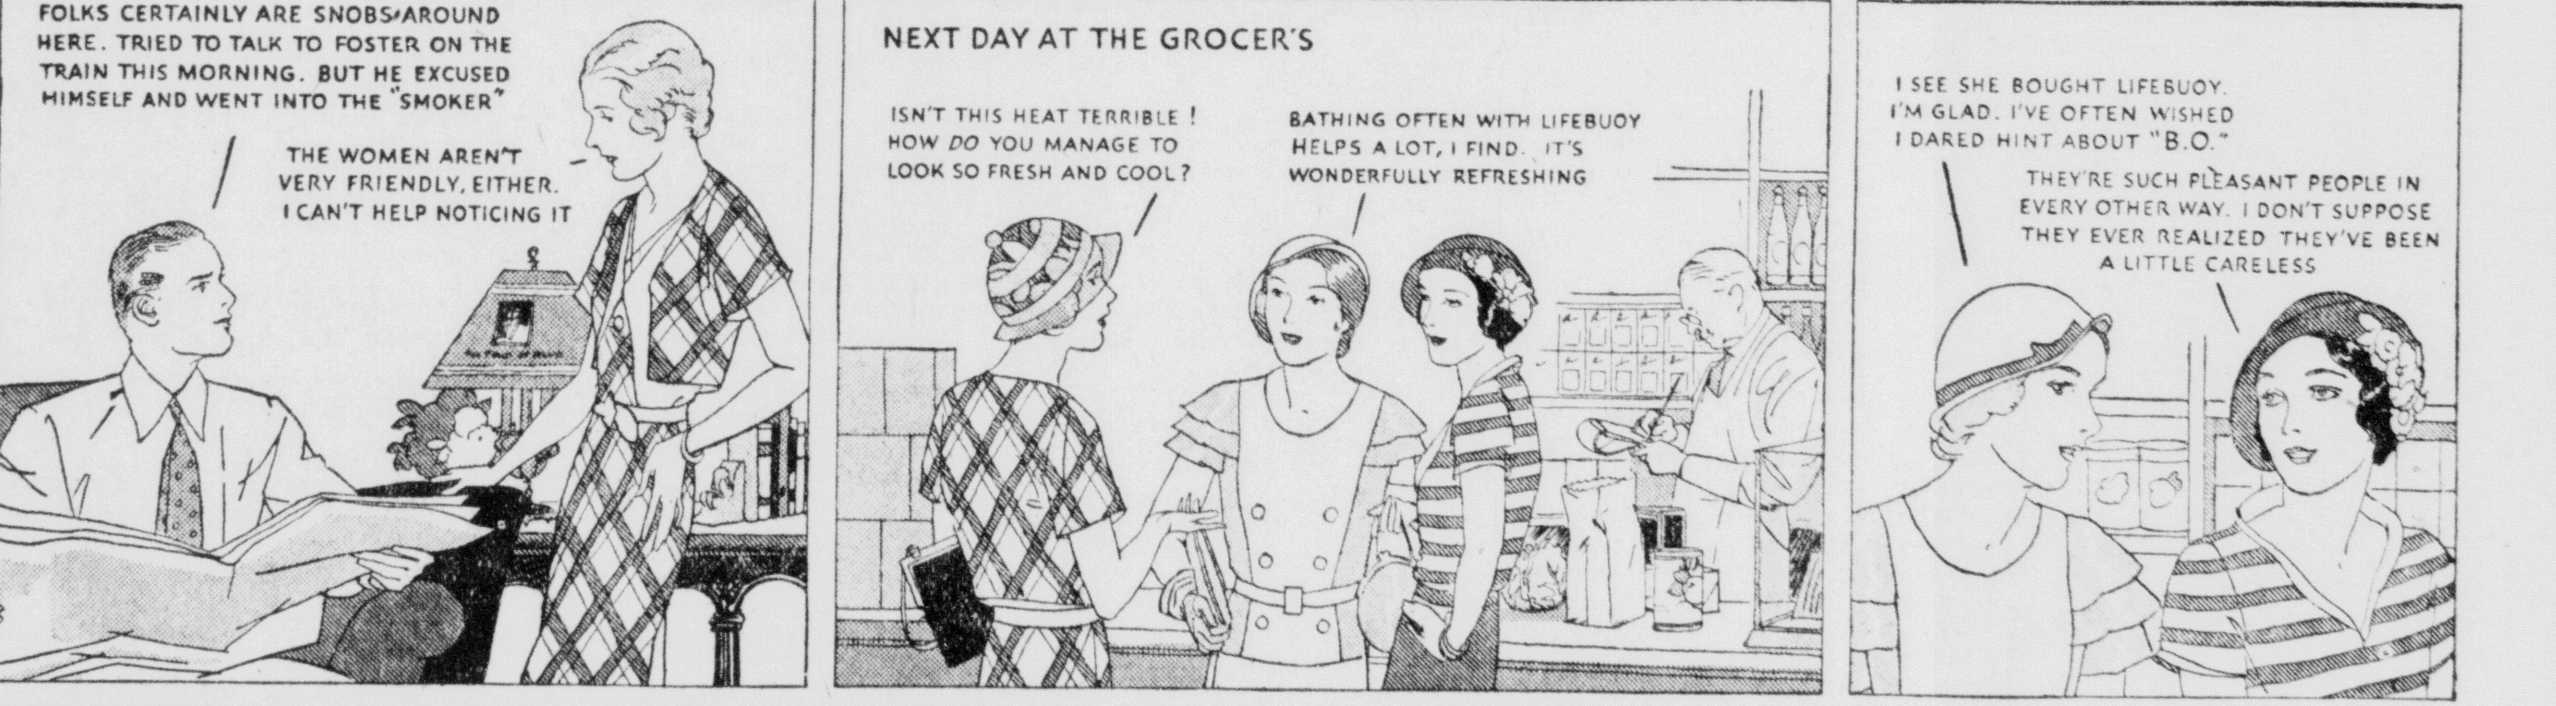

There is a destiny that shapes our ends, rough hew them though we may. There is a tide, which, if taken on the flood, leads to victory.

The personnel of Pennsylvania Power Company congratulate you on this, your fiftieth Working Birthday and present to you the only time to celebrate it "Now."

Trials And Semi-Finals Staged Sunday In Olympic Bowl Gives Americans Edge

FOREIGNERS ARE FAR OUTCLASSED

By FRANK G. MENKE
International News Service Sports Editor
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—Those doughty athletes from across the seas, rivers and old mill streams will renew their effort today to crumble U. S. A. supremacy into lavender scented talcum powder, or maybe it is violet, but the efforts probably will be just about as null and void as they were on Sunday.

The American squad, trained to perfection, and in perfect fettle, is a collection of track and field youths who seem adequately equipped to toss back all opposition in whatever events they are minded to take unto themselves.

Americans Good
The European threat and the Oriental peril amounted to very little that was alarming on Sunday, and the way those trials and semi-finals jammed were run indicated that the lads of the U. S. A. are almost certain to win the 100 and the 200 meters, back off perhaps the winning portion of the 800 gallop, in which they were supposed to be out-classed and probably gain a wholly unexpected win in the 400 meters hurdle, which also had been conceded to every Tom, Dick and Henry of some other land.

The contests ran almost an hour behind schedule on Sunday. These long and wholly needless delays between races made an eager and impatient crowd restless and critical. There seemed to be no reason for the hedge wagers to call men to their marks and then keep them waiting there 15 or 20 minutes while the starter loaded up his musket, the athletes fretted and the multitude fumed. Those tactics caused many of Sunday's patrons to vote "never again," if the folly were repeated.

Finns Depressed
Of all the nations that are depressed today, none is more so than the Finns. They had counted on winning the 10,000 meter race with Paavo Nurmi.

Minus Nurmi, the Finns shot with Volmari Lehto and Lauri Virtanen. It was figured that with Nurmi out of it, these fellows would run one-two. But a gentleman named Janusz Kusocinski, a long striding and stout-hearted son of Poland, ran both of them dizzy, and snatched the race.

Perhaps the most dazed citizens included George Spitz and his legion of admirers. Spitz was expected to win the high jump without even nudging his aerial department to best effort—and crack a world's record in so doing. But this fellow, who has jumped 6 feet 6 inches a thousand and one times, and who scaled better than 6 feet 8 inches for a new world's record, got as high as 6 feet 4 inches and thereafter gave spiffy imitations of a circus fat man trying to do a 14-foot pole vault while wearing a key of foaming liquid on one shoulder and six guzzling classmates on the other.

Stars Batted Out
Spitz was America's ace of aces, based upon his glittering exhibits during the winter. Which reminds that Gene Venzke was ditto at 1500 meters and that Ernest Toppa was just the same at 100 meters. All three of these "certain champions" have been batted out.

Among the choice tid-bits that will be served up today will be the semi-finals and finals in the 100 meters, in which only Arthur Jonathan of Germany seems to have a chance to head the great American trio of Tolan-Metcalf-Simpson.

The semi-finals for the 800 meters, the finals in the grueling 400 meters hurdle and the 300 meter steeple-chase trials and the hammer throwing complete the jobs outlining for the lads. But the issues will be thrust into the spotlight with trials and semi-finals in the 100 meters dash wherein Miss Stella Walsh, who went Poland, will perhaps meet with Miss Babe Didrikson of Dallas, Texas, who is the greatest all-around girl athlete the world has known.

Babe Ruth Is Slugging Ball

For Sick Man Ruth Has Batted .786 In Past Few Days, Has Hit Four Homers

GROVE TAMES INDIANS 1 TO 0
By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Seven American league clubs are hoping today that Babe Ruth gets well quickly. If the sick man gets much worse, the Yankees will have the pennant lashed to the mast by Labor Day.

Since returning to the lineup last week, the celebrated cripple has walked 11 hits—four homers, a double and six singles—44 times at bat for an average of .786.

The great man poled his 30th homer, with two on base, and also hit two singles, driving in five runs as the Yanks outslugged Detroit yesterday, 12 to 8.

Crowd at Cleveland.
A crowd of 50,284, the third largest attendance in the history of baseball, saw Lefty Grove of the Athletics hold the Indians to four singles and whitewash them, 1 to 0, as Cleveland's new $3,000,000 municipal stadium was dedicated.

Monte Weaver of Washington hung up his 17th victory of the season, beating Chicago 8 to 5, while the St. Louis Browns two-timed the Red Sox, 13 to 2 and 7 to 3.

The Giants trimmed Cincinnati twice, 4 to 3 and 6 to 4.
Charley Root smacked a double with the bases loaded and pitched the Cubs to a 6 to 3 win over Brooklyn. Hits by Stripp, O'Doul and Cuccinello in the seventh inning of the nightcap enabled the Dodgers to register a 5 to 4 victory at the expense of the brilliant Lon Warneke.

The Braves staged a batting feat against "Dizzy" Dean to beat the Cardinals, 7 to 2, after Paul Derringer blanked them in the opener, 7 to 0.

Clifton Flats Trims Volant

Clifton Flats blanked Volant 3 to 0 in a game Saturday at Volant. They sewed up the game in the first when they turned in their first run. Di Muccio was effective on the hill as he fanned five and bawled down the pitchers.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Clifton Flats 000 000 000—3
Volant 000 000 000—0
Batteries—Clifton Flats, Di Muccio and Coughlin; Volant, McDonald and Muccio.

DIAMOND DUST

Universal Sanitary pottery has re-organized and returned to the baseball field which is heartening news hereabouts.

Their return was celebrated by a 15 to 4 victory over Elder A. C.

Hutnie hurled fine ball and C. Bartra came through with a home run when Mahoning A. A. defeated Campbell's O. K. club 9 to 6.

Nick Cangle has scheduled some good games for the E. & A. field. The Mahoning club is stepping right along.

Butler and McIntyre staged a pretty hurled ruel on Scotland Lane when West Side A. C. defeated the Union A. A.

While the league teams are supposed to be the cream hereabouts it isn't seldom that an independent team arises and laces 'em.

The Scarazzos lead the Lawrence County Baseball league and will play Brent at Centennial field Wednesday.

Although Jewie Coen hurled good baseball, having 10 strikeouts, the Elders of 1915 could not overcome the 1932 edition of the Elder A. C.

The game recalled the stirring days when the 1915 team went like a house afire. McCann, Coen, Battley, Panell, Allen, L. Hamill, Porter, F. Hamill and Stimpel were the boys who heard the cheers.

Their legs are not as spry as they were. A few kinks gather in their throwing arm and their batting eye is not as keen as in yesteryear. Nevertheless their love for baseball continues.

Castlewood and Orr A. C. played a good game. The latter team lost by one run. Castlewood came through in the fifth to win three to two.

F. VanEman showed a fleet pair of spindles by stealing two bases. Shaffer and Schass hurried fairly even ball. Nelson and Duncan completed a fast doubleplay for Castlewood.

Scarazzos Trim Oil City Team

Paul McCullough In Shape And Scarazzos Take Game At Oil City 10 To 5

Paul McCullough was in shape Saturday afternoon at Oil City and the Scarazzos won from the Pennsylvanians 10 to 5. McCullough yielded 11 hits, but was never in danger.

The locals had 16 hits off Straub with Fahey and Sank McCullough busting out home runs. Norton of Oil City also poked a homer.

The locals banged out enough hits to score four runs in the first inning, and Oil City came back with four runs in the second to tie the count, but after that McCullough held them in check. The locals won the game in the eighth by getting to Straub for enough hits to produce five more runs. Jones, Sank McCullough, Diffley and Travers hit the ball hard, with three hits apiece.

For Oil City, the hitting of the Hite brothers and Straub featured. McCullough fanned five men while Straub accounted for nine via the strikeout route. The Oil City team is highly rated in Venango county, and had won 18 and lost but three until Saturday.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Oil City 040 100 000—5
Scarazzos 000 001 050—10
Batteries: Oil City—Straub and Turk; Scarazzos—Paul McCullough and Diffley. Umpire—Brooks.

Cascade A. C. Tops Colonials, 2 To 1

Cascade A. C. topped the Colonial A. C. 2 to 1 in a baseball game at Colonial Field. The game was a pitching battle between Miller and Bartlett, with the former having the better of the argument. Miller and Boston had the only extra-base blows of the game.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Colonials 000 010—1
Batteries—Cascades: Miller and Miles; Colonials—Bartlett and Warso. Umpires—Mitchell and Howley.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

United States failed to lift the Davis cup from France yesterday at Auteuil. France retained the coveted trophy setting a new record of holding it for six consecutive years.

Jean Borotra defeated Wilmer Allison 1-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, 7-5. The match was thrilling. Both Allison and Borotra scored 160 points without even a one point margin for the French victor. The victory decided the challenge round, all in singles. There was an upset however, as Ellsworth Vines beat Henri Cochet who has not been defeated in season after season of Davis cup play. The score was 4-6, 0-6, 7-5, 8-6, 6-2.

Smartering under the bee-like sting of Saturday's double defeat the Pirates hoped to ride the Phils this afternoon at Quakertown. Manager Gibson has picked Heinie Meine to undertake the task of removing the Jinx from the Pirates' path. Heinie has enjoyed a three days rest since taking the measure of the Giants.

While the Pirates are aching to even the score it might be appropriate to state what happened at Cleveland yesterday when Grove thrashed the Athletics and beat the Indians 1-0. There were 80-284 fans in the new stadium. It is said to be the biggest crowd that ever witnessed a major league contest.

Charles Phillips, 26, Belmont, N. Y. widely known jockey, was killed and a fellow jockey, Walter Magner, 25, Chicago, critically injured when their auto collided with a taxicab at Windsor, Ont., yesterday.

Kid Chocolate will risk his junior lightweight crown when he meets Eddie Sheg in a 10 rounder at Chicago Tuesday night. It isn't likely that Eddie will accomplish the task.

Mahoning A. A. Trims O. K. Club

Five hurlers were employed in the O. K. club of Campbell-Mahoning A. A. game Saturday on the E. & A. field and Mahoning finally won out 9 to 6. It was a liberal hitting clash. Hutnie's relief hurling featured the game. Ragged play by the O. K. club in the field helped Mahoning win. The box score:

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The stock market displayed a firm tone today with strength in steel shares offsetting reactionary influences elsewhere in the list on profit-taking.

Where in the list on profit-taking. Steel common was active at higher prices and Bethlehem Steel preferred ran up about 2 points. News from the steel industry told of a further gain in optimism even though operations have failed to increase.

Reactionary tone in wheat was ignored by merchandising and farm implement shares, with Case threshing leading the group higher. Oils were firm.

Westinghouse was strong and American Telephone went into new high ground for the advance. Rail stocks put up another backward performance, meeting fresh profit-taking but declines were small.

Commodities showed few changes of importance with Cotton working higher. The bond market was buoyant, German bonds rallying sharply on yesterday's election outcome.

FIRE SWEEPS FURNITURE STORE
IN ELLWOOD SATURDAY NIGHTFire Chief Estimates Loss At Somewhere Near
$18,000Shelby Firemen Come To Aid Of Ellwood Firemen In Battle

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 1.—Through the action of the Ellwood City and Shelby Fire Departments and the heroic efforts of the firemen, an entire block in the business section of the city was saved from destruction, when they battled one of the worst blazes here, Saturday night, at the Zeigler Furniture Company, located next to the American Legion building on Sixth street. Before the fire was subdued and neighboring buildings out of danger, a damage of $18,000 was done, according to Fire Chief H. T. Plante's estimate.

How the fire started is yet undetermined. An investigation is being conducted today. Chief Plante is seeking to determine cause of the blaze. The fire broke out in the third floor, or attic of the frame building where various articles of furniture are stored.

The fire not only caused heavy loss but was the cause of injury to four firemen who required the attention of a physician. Ed. French received a dangerous gash in his head and hand when a big hose got from the grasp of several of the men and began swinging wildly. Robert Henry was cut about the hand with broken glass while making an entry into the burning building. Charles Baird and L. L. Anderson were burned about the eyes. Several of the firemen were overcome by smoke during the battle.

It looked like a losing fight for a while but a more strenuous effort on the part of the firemen and the timely arrival of the Shelby Department turned the tide. It was an hour and a half before the flames were subdued and the fire brought under control. A cool fan breeze was a noticeable aid to the blaze.

Develops At 10:10 P. M.

The fire was discovered at 10:10 p. m. by one of the employees of the company who immediately turned in an alarm to the local station. About 150 yards away. Five minutes later a fire truck was on the scene and a hose was in action. In no time, two more trucks, including the ladder truck, and the entire force of about 38 men of the local department were in action. They gave the appearance of a well organized group of men who rapidly did their assigned duties and obeyed orders.

At the arrival of the fire department a thick cloud of smoke was issuing from the rear of the building where the firemen made their way. A ladder was placed against the third story rear window and three of the men from this department attacked the apparent source of the flames. In the meantime another group had forced an entry into the third story from the alley side of the building.

While firemen were concentrating their attention here, the roof of the front end of the building burst into flames. The building was a wood structure and the roof was covered with tar paper which the flames found easy to devour.

Another truck appeared on the scene from which the men attacked the flames from a neighboring roof. When three lines of hose on the building failed to be making any noticeable headway, Chief Plante sent a call for the Shelby Department and its dozen men. In no time three more six inch lines were concentrated on the roof of the blazing building by the Shelby firemen headed by Charles Stiner. Smoke by this time had covered the block.

Fear Blaze May Spread

For a period it was feared that the flames would take the adjoining building belonging to A. A. Logue, painter, and the home of Mrs. Eva Vosler. Firemen had placed a ladder to the roof of the latter place from where they sent a stream of water and ended all danger. A service station was located near the building and had it been endangered it was thought that the residents of the whole block would have been seeking new homes.

When the fire showed signs of dying down a group of men entered the building with a hose and put a complete end to all danger. Water was played on the building from three sides until every spark disappeared.

The greatest damage was done to the furniture and other merchandise in the store. Chief Plante places the loss here at $18,000 and to the building $8,000. The building is in a repairable state.

Other farmers reported that crops and buildings on their properties sustained a heavy blow during the storm.

How far is a stone's throw, asks a reader. Well, if you've ever rented one of those "stone's-throw" from-the-oven cottages, you'd probably say about two miles.—The Altoona Mirror.

"The world is growing better, all right, but no one ever heard of a golden wedding among stage folk."—The Omaha Evening World-Herald.

worked under the orders of Chief W. C. Morrison and Lieut. E. R. Hartman.

The speed and fearlessness which the local firemen showed in fighting the fire was commendable. Chief Plante and his men were commended by several members of the Borough Council and the burgess for their bravery and ability.

Ball games were the predominant activity of the afternoon with the Pathfinders class defeating the Young Married Men's class. Another feature of the afternoon was a game held between the Wurttemberg church and members of the Marshfield families, who were holding a reunion there, with the church team being victorious.

At 6 o'clock a bountiful picnic dinner was served at long tables which had been placed on the spacious lawn of the home. The tables were prettily centered with choice bouquets of summer flowers and the dinner was served by a group of ladies from the church.

Jay McDonald was chairman of the entertainment committee and he saw that everyone was occupied with some form of entertaining amusement. Finally after the games had all been played the evening was brought to a close with group singing after which everyone departed for home voting the affair a complete success.

Other plans were made for the fall work of the society. It was also announced that Rev. Scott Brenner would be a special guest speaker at the meeting, August 7.

Record Crowds At Opening Of Olympic Games

Attendance Records May Be
Shattered By Americans
At Tenth Olympiad

ALREADY 160,000
HAVE ATTENDED

By TED SMITS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1.—A new kind of Olympic Games record was on the way to being established today—a record for attendance that may set a high-water mark for sports carnivals of all kinds.

Already more than 160,000 people have paid their way to see four different Olympic events; the opening ceremony, which drew 105,000; the Sunday track and field contests, 50,000; and the weightlifting and fencing tests, which attracted another 10,000.

The attendance record of both the 1924 games in Paris and the 1928 contests in Amsterdam was around the 200,000 mark—and the present games still have nearly two weeks to run. All swimming programs are already sold out, track will continue to hold the spotlight, rowing is bound to be a banner attraction and football and boxing looms as other favorites.

Contests Resumed
The second day of active Olympic competition found the sports program broadening. Cycling starts tonight in the rebuilt Rose Bowl at Pasadena, and wrestling makes its debut in the Olympic auditorium. The preliminary round in fencing continues, and track and field as usual holds the spotlight in the Olympic Stadium.

National Kiddies Day Celebration

Cascade Park will be one of the thousands of parks throughout the United States that will have a kiddies' day Tuesday, according to Manager Carl Shaner. According to the manager of the popular resort all of the rates at the recreation center will be cut, and in addition there will be penny and candy scrambles and athletics. Children can ride free on street cars to the park.

Directors Association, Clements Gardens, and Miller Pyle and Street. One bouquet in particular stood out for the sentiment back of it. Some twenty-one families of the Milton street district, neighbors of Mr. Rentz when he lived on that street sent in a gorgeous basket of flowers and attached were the following verses, composed by Miss Mary Bigley.

"We're wishing just for you today. Some memories to store away. Some joys that through the years have shone.

When you were as a neighbor known. We still remember with delight The days we saw you morn and night.

Days we recall for old times sake When you were raising Ethel and Jake.

And we knew that meant endless labors In spite of the help of kindly neighbors.

But your efforts with success were crowned. For a finer family can't be found. We share today in your happiness And wish you still more of success.

And hope the memories of joys we have known Come back on this day that is wholly your own.

And make this a time of such happy thought You'll always remember the pleasure it brought.

And we are recalling our happiness too. In having for years a fine neighbor like you.

Drum Corps Parades.
During the evening the drum corps of the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, paraded up to the Rentz home, accompanied by the women of the auxiliary of the organization. The corps played a number of snappy selections, maneuvered in front of the home and after refreshments, departed.

Inside the house Sue Harvard Armstrong presented a concert recital, an account of which appears in other columns. Little Miss Kathryn Wilcox, a tiny niece of Mr. Rentz, recited a poem written by Mrs. Carmi Glover, and a group of singers sang two parodies written by Miss Mary Bigley.

Gifts Presented.
Among the many gifts received by Mr. Rentz was a handsome silver vase presented by his partners in the New Castle News, Mrs. James Tolles Ray of New Castle and Attorney A. W. Treadwell of San Diego, Cal. In the vase were 50 golden roses, sent by Patrick Anderson of Chicago, Ill., a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ray.

From New Wilmington came a birthday cake baked by Mrs. Elmer Sharp and on which were 50 golden candles. There were a number of other gifts of friends, testifying to the esteem in which Mr. Rentz is held.

Guests were present from other cities. At dinner time Mr. and Mrs. Rentz held a family dinner at which were a number of visiting publishers who had come here to add their word of felicitations.

The reception was such an event as will never be forgotten by either Mr. Rentz or his family. It was an unusual testimonial from hundreds of his friends and closed for him a never-to-be-forgotten 50th anniversary of the day he first started work on the New Castle News.

Among the out of town guests at the reception were the following: Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, Greenville; Bert Wells, Collier, W. Va.; James B. Borland, Franklin; James A. Murrin, Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo S. Batchelor, Monaca; Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Weide, Los Angeles, Cal.; Amelia W. Wilson, Pacific Grove, Cal.; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jonas, Crafton; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parshall, West Middlesex; William B. Ramsey and Walter McDowell, Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. William Kennedy, Sandusky, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Albright, Chicago, Ill.; Miss May King, Mrs. Robert White and Mrs. Charles Riley, Youngstown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dixon, Butler; Mr. and Mrs. V. Van Voorhis, Cleveland, O.; Mrs. Pearl King, Philadelphia; Carl Davidson, Ellwood City; John Offutt, Ellwood City; Miss Louise G. McCurdy, Freeport; Mrs. Benjamin D. Phillips, Butler; Clint Sankey, Ellwood City; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Merriman, Mrs. Ira C. Dunkin, Dr. J. Howard Swick, Beaver Falls.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz:
Twelve years ago you paid a beautiful tribute to one of your friends, "My Mother."
That tribute is one of my cherished "scraps" in my book of the things that have been of the most interest to me. Among them are the "last writup" of the passing of associates of my childhood: Tom Johnson, Charley Power (this last should have come first, for he was a "school days" boy), and the little red headed Mr. Thompson, all of them associated with my childhood and "The News". Those young chaps, I suppose, did not make life easy for you, the "Printer's Devil", but how I wish they could have been here today to witness your achievement.

You have always had my good wishes and now I can only send you congratulations for a life well spent. Should a person be congratulated on a well spent life? I do not know, but I do wish for you many more useful and happy years.

Sincerely yours,
MARY McBRIDE BEISEL,
(Mrs. Benjamin)

Thought sure that Dot and I would be in New Castle last week-end and have the opportunity to congratulate you personally on your 50th year service record but we were called to Iowa and were unable to be present. While it is rather belated, hope you will accept our sincere congratulations and every good wish.
AL AND DOT SHAFER.

Dear Fred:
My sincerest congratulations on this 50th anniversary of your success.
A WISH
Helen Stanton.
I cannot give you much, but hear my gift.
It is the most of it come true: I'm sending to the gods a wish. A fortune merry, just for you.

I wish you happiness—swift, fleeting. Joys that hold the heart enthralled. Caught enmeshed in shading danger. That changes swift and never palls.

I wish you passion, questing, clinging; Darting, soaring flames of love. I wish you gipsy hearts that sing In mad refrain to stars above.

I wish you sorrow, racking, tearing; Purging, cleansing, fire white, That snatches tearless at your soul strings. Keeps you waking taut each night.

I wish you memories, long creeping. Through years with striving to forget. Remembrance with tearlets falling. That bring you pain, but ne'er regret.

I wish if all this last attend you. To leave you mellowed in release From petty, trivial things about you. I wish the gods may give you peace.

The inclosed poem expresses, I think, much you have passed through and may the last verse be typical of the future years for you.
Sincerely your friend,
M. KATE STOCKMAN.

July 30, 1932.
Congratulations glad and true. This cheery card will bring. And may the future hold for you Good luck in everything.
MRS. WILLIAM S. ORGAN,

Dear Mr. Rentz:
To me The "News" would not be the same without you at the helm. Here's hoping you will be there for many years to come. A subscriber of many many years standing. Your sincere friend and well wisher.

To My Friend:
Congratulations Big Boy. Earnest seeker for joy In nature, in people and work. You surely dug in. And success did you win; Not knowing the meaning of shirk.

Fifty years did you Of service today? There is vim, there is pep in your quest. With a grip firm and strong. You keep working along. Still giving and doing your best.

Ever loyal and bold Your home town to uphold. Tho' fair distant cities you roam, No splendor could haunt you. No famous one daunt you. From singing the praises of home.

God bless you Big Boy With your heart full of joy. Your faith in your friends ever strong; Your home-towners greet you. Come forward to meet you. And give you their best right along. Your home-levee.
EMMA LEE GLOVER,
(Mrs. Carmi Glover)

Greetings to Mr. Fred L. Rentz, July 30, 1932. The nineteenth century brought a lad of sturdy growth From out the hill-top country; With mind and will attuned to God's new day.

He with ambition backed by courage said: 'Tis Morning! Another round on life's hewn trail. To climb the steep in marts of trade. The call to serve, as best the lad might do.

Again ambition, allied with action, said: 'Tis Morning! Anon the years, on upward tread. Bespoke a timely day in which to link the hours and years In service, filled with daily issues to his fellow mates.

Thou now grown, to cull and tell 'Tis Morning! For you, our friend, the years have sown and grown A place for Friendship within the hearts of men.

Seasons that may have been of grief—yet midst peace and joy. The days continue into other days—and yet—'Tis Morning!

Life gives the best, the all we need: A new day dawns with each new coming of the rising sun; New opportunities, abilities, with grace and strength to serve. May each day bring YOU The Eternal News—"Tis Always Morning!" Sincerely yours,
HENRIETTA R. DICKSON.

BONUS MARCHERS ARE ENCAMPED
NEAR JOHNSTOWN

communicated with state officials, and they are ready to step in if it is at all necessary.

All of the council, or spokesmen for each of the four members, aside from the ex-officio member, Mayor Eddie McCloskey, who invited the marchers here, declared they sympathized with the veterans, but felt their continued presence here would impose an unbearable burden of an already hard hit city.

Waters Plans New Camp
The announcement of Walter W. Waters, national commander of the marchers that he intended to take his tattereddemolition army to a 200-acre wooded home between Washington and Baltimore within the month had a distinctly soothing effect on the somewhat ruffled council. Prior to this statement which waters delivered in a brief address to the marchers after he flew from Washington, the authorities envisioned a rapidly growing of unemployed camped at the edge of Johnstown indefinitely.

There were a few more than 3,000 marchers here today, and in the same incredible manner their rude, semi-permanent shacks sprang up when they trudged into Washington nine weeks ago, a camp of imposing, if tattered permanency, was going up here today.

Fred, too, was miraculously on hand, and more was reported on the way. Mayor McCloskey had donated 2000 loaves of bread out of his own pocket.

There was some talk that the group of radicals who caused so much trouble when the army was in the national capitol had migrated here in part, and that its members were again trying to work their way into the bonus expeditionary force.

Doak Carter of Cleveland, Waters' second in command and acting chief here while Waters prepared the Maryland camp, has instructed the men to watch out for any of this group and see that they are ejected from the bonus camp.

Pinchot May Visit
Harrisburg, Aug. 1.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, assailed Washington authorities today for their treatment of the bonus army and announced his intention of going to Johnstown where thousands of the B. E. F. have concentrated.

The governor likened the action of federal troops and Washington police to the use of a steam shovel to scratch a mosquito bite.

"The bonus marchers have shown far more restraint than the Washington authorities. The great majority of them did nothing whatever to deserve treatment that would have been cruel if they had been Chinese coolies. It is hard to see what they could have done that would justify a night attack with tear gas and tanks on camps, containing hundreds of women and children."

"A little forbearance, a little common sense, and a couple of hundred men like the Pennsylvania State police would have moved them, if they had to be moved, without breaking any bones. The whole business was brutal, stupid, and altogether unnecessary."

"Would you use a steam shovel to scratch a mosquito bite? Not unless you lost your head."

"If I can get away from the election session for half a day, I want to have a look at the Johnstown camp and a talk with its leaders. I expect to find them reasonable men."

The Pennsylvania state assembly is now convened in extraordinary session for the purpose of providing unemployment relief.

See the new fabric sensations — the rough surfaced, crepey woolsens, the Needlepoint weaves, the velvety finishes.

See the sumptuous furs — great sets of rich skins, more luxurious in quality and more lavishly used than ever before in the history of these Advance Selection Sales. The pelts were carefully selected from the first catch — notably the best in quality.

See the 1932-33 silhouette, concentrating the fur trimming above the high waistline and slim and straight as a pencil below; the new sleeve treatments.

Last year's coats are definitely outmoded, but this glorious collection of the new fashions at only $48 gives you an opportunity to make one of the most gratifying purchases of a lifetime.

NOTE — BLACK is foremost in fashion — other important colors are the new Porto Vene, Baku Brown, Medoc Red, Fall Beige, Boxwood Green.
